INSPIRED BY THE METAVERSE

Virtual reality, metaverse and other similar technologies are part of an exciting growing wave that are expanding their roots to all aspects of our life and seem to have come to stay!

Japan, renowned for being at the forefront of technological and digital advancement, is now looking to integrate the metaverse, or Web3 technology, into its national economic and consumer experience agenda. Another case is South Korea, diving into the metaverse with its hugely ambitious 'Metaverse Seoul', estimated to be complete in 2026! Part of a multi-year effort to expand South Korea's public services, 'Metaverse Seoul' will be a virtual replica of the city, allowing users to take their avatars to tax offices, access youth counselling, find support for small businesses, and even read e-books!

Location-based entertainment experiences are one of the best ways to discover virtual technology at its best and offer an endless world of possibilities to travellers worldwide.

One of the most must-visit destinations in the US, Las Vegas offers a lion's share when it comes to artistic and cultural experiences. This still rings true when considering experiences that are inspired by the metaverse! As a multicultural hub with a rich history and connection with the arts, London is also a perfect destination that offers plenty of immersive experiences to suit all tastes and interests, even the most niche.

Location-based entertainment experiences, or LBE, are adding all-new elements to their offerings with virtual reality, augmented reality, interactivity and gamification, so much so that they're worth travelling for!

Disney Resorts

As the most influential theme parks in the world, it's no surprise that the Disney World Resorts are some of the best places for travellers looking for immersive and interactive experiences. Disney has been exploring VR and AR consistently in recent years, though most notably it is expanding its Star Tours repertoire in 2024 with all-new rides, immersive experiences and interactive droids in California, Florida and Disneyland Paris!

Most notably, Disney as a franchise developed a new patent in early 2022 that would launch it ahead of its metaverse-aware competitors: a real-world attraction where guests will experience an overlapped 3D virtual world without the use of headsets or goggles, for an immersive experience that would go beyond current virtual reality (VR) and augmented reality (AR). Using 'simultaneous localisation and mapping' techniques and a visual effects system to project a 3D virtual scene, this patent would allow guests to interact with holographic Disney characters and stars, artwork and information displayed in a uniquely interactive but personal way. While details are yet to be announced regarding where this will be implemented and when, we're sure that this technology will change the way Disneyland is experienced around the world!

Due for completion in 2024, teamLab Phenomena Abu Dhabi on Saadiyat Island will consist of multi-sensory, immersive experiences designed to promote 'infinite curiosity' in the 17,000sqm building!

TEAMLAB AROUND THE WORLD:

Meow Wolf: Omega Mart, Las Vegas

Included in the AREA15 district is the second permanent installation from Santa Fe-based art collective Meow Wolf! Omega Mart brings together Meow Wolf's signature dedication to mind-bending, interactive experiences, based in 'maximalist environments' to be truly immersive. While this is a physical location, Meow Wolf encompasses the transportative nature of the metaverse and brings in tangible realness for visitors! Audience participation is heavily encouraged by technology-driven installations, mixed reality (MR) 'playgrounds' and secret passageways that only the most inquisitive can find. It's an unmissable experience for all ages.

Punchdrunk, the company widely renowned as the 'spark' that ignited the immersive entertainment industry, also offers incredible experiences in London, the US, and Shanghai! Each production layers their signature theatrical elements onto other art forms, technologies and physical spaces to develop a whole-new and unmissable live experience. Secret Cinema also offers themed immersive film showings throughout the year designed to fully transform their guests' reality for the duration of their experience!

See hotels in London ▶▶

Super Nintendo World, Osaka

Gamification is a key element in many virtual and mixed reality experiences open to customers nowadays, offering truly immersive gaming experiences that aren't restricted to solitary VR headsets or home-based environments! Super Nintendo World is no different, and in fact as a theme park it is leading the way for VR and AR experiences, with a wide range of immersive experiences, augmented reality exploration and gaming spaces, interactive entertainment and tech-based attractions.

OTHER VIRTUAL REALITY MUSEUM TOURS IN LONDON

Many of the best online museums, exhibitions and walking tours can be found in London, making them some of the most accessible in the world! From the stunning Greenwich Painted Hall which reopened only a few years ago, the British Museum for a scroll around history or the Natural History Museum for all things earthly, to the National Gallery from some true artistry, and even the London Transport Museum, there's something for everyone online in London to inspire a trip.

OTHER METAVERSE EXPERIENCES IN JAPAN

Japan is combining the 'gamification' of VR with the practicality of the metaverse! Firms like Mitsubishi and IT giant Fujitsu are working on a new metaverse platform called Ryugukoku - to 'update Japan through the power of games.' This platform will blend user experiences like fantasy adventure role play, purchase NFTs and much more, and will be interoperable between other metaverse platforms and social type platforms!

Classic Tourism Meets Tech

While (not quite) destinations in themselves, app and website-based VR and AR experiences around the world are paving the way for a whole new realm of tourism where travellers' experiences are enriched with interactive technology!

Kumamon Land

Kumamon Land is the result of a collaboration between Japan's Kumamoto prefecture and a leading tech-organisation and marketing agency, to offer an exclusive experience that combines the metaverse space and classic tourism! As an app-based metaverse space, users can participate in a 'lifestyle community', exploring a virtual landscape inspired by the real-life destination of Kumamoto.

Singapore

Travellers seeking to experience Singapore but wanting to know more about this incredible destination are in luck, with the recently launched augmented reality trail app from the National Heritage Board of Singapore, BALIKSG. Offering two different immersive trail routes, Singapore River and around Fort Canning, this AR app unveils an augmented reality space overlaid onto physical locations, offering a unique way to discover the history of this country.

Qatar Airways

Qatar Airways recently announced the arrival of Qverse; an immersive experience offering travellers a chance to navigate and check-in at Hamad International Airport, complete with 'Sama' - a MetaHuman cabin crew! The Qatar Airways website also offers a glimpse into their award-winning craft interiors. Designed to 'delight customers' with its innovation, Qverse is an exciting look into how the metaverse is challenging and breaking down boundaries within the travel experience.

Working From 'Roam'

Where In The World Is Best For Bleisure Travel?

It's expected that the rise of remote working and bleisure travel will continue and accelerate into 2024 and even beyond! For many people the lines between business and leisure travel are increasingly blurred, and it means that travellers who may have been restricted by their rigid 9-5 job are now more liberated to work, and therefore travel, wherever they want.

So, where is best for this fast-growing travel style?

Seoul, South Korea

With two brand new visas from 2023 - the K-Culture and Workcation visas - South Korea is becoming a much more viable option for remote workers! The new Workcation visa - also known as the digital nomad visa - allows foreign nationals the chance to experience life in South Korea for two years while working, even for companies overseas. The current online travel authorisation process (known as K-ETA) is also being improved, allowing for easier international travel.

For remote workers, Seoul is a great option. It's a modern, fashionable city with business-minded younger generations bringing the traditional cultures up to speed. The university district of Myeongnyun is a little quieter, so makes for a great hub for bleisure travellers. Plus, there are many co-working spaces around Seoul with great membership deals including WeWork, Fastfive and Fab Lab. The port city of Busan, much-loved for its stunning seaside and tranquil atmosphere, is also opening workcation hubs to host digital nomads!

Travelling to idyllic places like Busan and Jeju Island is easy using Seoul's many transport links, making it an ideal base from which to explore, and with more global interest in Korean culture and entertainment - called 'Hallyu' - there's never a better time to experience this beautiful, richly cultured country.

Where to stay in?

- Itaewon - the busy, international heart of Seoul, loved for its nightlife but a little expensive
- Gangnam - made famous by the song 'Gangnam Style', fashionable and energetic, and a little cheaper than Itaewon
- Hongdae and Mapo - the university districts, great on a lower budget
- Dongdaemun - loved by locals and international visitors alike!
- Incheon - the perfect place to experience quieter, traditional Korean culture just outside the city

Visas available: The new Workcation visa for 2023 which allows entry for 2 years OR the H1 Working Holiday visa which allows international visitors to stay for 1 year - though applicants should check the restrictions on what type of work qualifies.

Best time to visit: The more temperate months of Spring (April - June) as the weather isn't quite so hot and humid! September - November avoids the cold Korean winters and allows travellers to make the most of low season and the fewer tourist levels.

Average cost of a coffee: Around ₩3,000 (~$2) in cheaper cafes, up to ₩7,000 (~$5) in more 'Instagram-friendly' coffee shops.

Lisbon, Portugal

Portugal has relatively painless visa application processes and options for digital nomads, making it a fairly easy country to live and work in, and most come with getaways to permanent residence for any travellers who fall head over heels! Plus, on the more practical side, Portugal has a NHR (non-habitual resident) program, available with the Temporary-Stay visa, which gives remote workers favourable tax rates during their stay in the country. Portugal is one of the most affordable in Western Europe which lends itself to longer-term stays for bleisure travellers and this, along with its Mediterranean climate, means Portugal is a great choice for remote workers. What's more, travellers are free to explore the rest of the European Schengen area on their visas, making it a great base! The locals are welcoming to international visitors, many speaking English, and remote workers will find a safe country with a relatively low cost of living, welcoming atmosphere and fast internet connectivity. Lisbon was voted as the most popular place to work remotely in 2022 - and is one of the only European cities flanked by beaches, which is a bonus for any traveller! There are many coworking spaces, it's packed with culture, and has a 'small town' feeling to it.

Keep in mind!! Workers from an EU, EEA country or Switzerland don't need a visa to live and work in Portugal - but must register as a resident the same way as with a D7 visa!

See hotels in Lisbon ▶▶

Visas available: Portugal Temporary Stay Visa

(for digital nomads who are non-EU/EEA/Swiss citizens) or the D7 Passive Income Visa. The D2 Entrepreneur Visa and Portugal Golden Visa offer more permanent residence in return for investment.

Best time to visit: Portugal has a warm climate, with hot summers and mild winters making it a great all-year destination - but 'off season' during September - October means the streets are less crowded with other tourists.

Average cost of a coffee: Around €1.50 - €2 ($1.65 - $2.2) for a cappuccino.

Panama City, Panama

One of Latin America's more underrated destinations, Panama City should not be slept on! This modern, vibrant city makes a great base for digital nomads as it's well-connected with the rest of North and South America, has great coworking spaces, a wide range of affordable accommodation and it's just slightly cheaper than nearby Costa Rica. With its combination of lush rainforests and sandy beaches, and strong business community, Panama City is perfect for digital nomads who want a bit of everything.

Plus, in 2021 Panama launched the Short Stay Visa for Remote Workers, specifically designed for digital nomads! This visa allows travellers to live and work in Panama for nine months, with an option to renew it after that for another nine months.

Casco Viejo is highly recommended if travellers don't want to stay in the bustling centre of the city, but within the city travellers can expect UNESCO heritage sites, gorgeous architecture, great internet cafes perfectly suited to digital nomads, amazing food and a great public transport system with regular city buses and Panama's first metro - with metro cards available and single rides costing less than a dollar. What's more, the city is welcoming to international visitors, and the US Dollar is widely accepted as a main currency alongside the Panama Balboa.

Visas available: Short-Stay Visa for Remote

Workers - specifically designed for digital nomads, released in 2021.

Best time to visit: Between the short dry season of January - May! Given that Panama is so close to the Equator, temperatures are warm and humid all year, while the rainiest month is November.

Average cost of a coffee: Around £3-4 for a cappuccino

Austin Texas, USA

Of course, considering the breadth and sheer scope of the USA, it's impossible to create a list of the best destinations for digital nomads without including this behemoth of a continent with each of its 50 states all offering their very unique cultures and opportunities.

However, a recent study by SmartAsset curated the top 10 best places for the WFH nation and the city that came out leader of the pack was Austin, Texas, with around 39% of its population already working from home! As a vibrant, creative hub (with no state income tax) Austin is a perfect destination for digital nomads! Why?

Well, for one, Austin has a thriving digital nomad community which means there are plenty of people who understand the ups and downs of this lifestyle. This also means the city is abundant with laptop-friendly spaces, from coffee shops to dedicated coworking setups! Second, Austin has gained traction recently as the 'new Los Angeles' offering a more affordable cost of living, with a safer lifestyle - as well as being a vibrant and young place to live.

Where to stay in?

- Downtown and warehouse district areas - home to some of the biggest tech startups in the world like Facebook and Google, but they have more bars per capita than anywhere else in the US.
- South and East areas - cool, creative and a little funky, with enough live music to rival Nashville!

Visas options: ESTA for up to 90 days (multiple entry)

Best time to visit: From March to May, as outdoor festivities and events take over the city, as well as stunning cherry blossoms! September - November brings more rain and milder temperatures but more cultural events to enjoy as the city comes alive again after the burning summer months.

Average cost of a coffee: Around $4 - $5

TOP 10 US CITIES FOR THE WFH NATION BY SMARTASSET:

The cities that made the list by SmartAsset were selected after analysing numerous practical factors like housing costs, income, unemployment, as well as coffee shop and bar density, to see where offers the best opportunities for the digital nomad.

10 TOP Theme Parks

AROUND THE WORLD

Theme parks provide the opportunity for visitors of all ages to get away from the real world and immerse themselves in their own individual interests, that you just can't find anywhere else. From being transported to childhood favourite movies and shows with Disneyland, to feeling the rush of a record-breaking roller coaster, there's something for everyone!

A recent resurgence of popular culture meant that around 88% of travellers wanted to experience a nostalgic getaway during 2023, and 63% of travellers were eager to get their heart pumping with a trip to a theme park. So it's clear that these unique destinations are certainly not losing their appeal. Read on to discover some of the best theme parks and amusements around the world!

What's new?

As well as The Walt Disney Company's 100th anniversary which started in 2023 and will carry over in 2024, there have been new additions to the Magic Kingdom including a 'Villain's After Hours' party, the return of its much-loved Happily Ever After fireworks show, and its new TRON Lightcycle ride! Not only this, but the beloved Splash Mountain is being reworked into a Princess and the Frog attraction, due to make its debut in late 2024. So visitors in 2023 and beyond will have plenty of new attractions to look forward to!

See destination ▶▶

Six Flags Magic Mountain Los Angeles - California, USA

Not only does Six Flags Magic Mountain have the most roller coasters of any theme park in the world but it's renowned for having some of the 'best' - vying for this title with Cedar Point.

Six Flags broke the record for the most roller coasters in the world with its newest addition WONDER WOMAN™ Flight of Courage, which opened in 2022 and holds the title for the longest, tallest single-rail coaster in the world. With other record-breaking and one-of-a-kind attractions like the side-by-side tracks of West Coast Racers and the 17-storey CraZanity, Six Flags Magic Mountain is certainly an unmissable park for thrill-seekers!

Walt Disney World Resort & Universal Orlando - Florida, USA

With an average of 58 million visitors a year it's no surprise that Orlando is renowned as one of the most spectacular Disney resorts in the world - and for good reason.

From the world-famous Magic Kingdom park and some of the most popular attractions like Space Mountain and Cinderella Castle, to the production shows and rides based off fan-favourite Disney movies in Disney's Hollywood Studios and the safari-themed experiences available in Disney's Animal Kingdom, there's something for every taste.

Cedar Point - Ohio, USA

Amongst the list of the oldest amusement parks in the USA, Cedar Point also has one of the highest concentration of rollercoasters with a total of 17. Many of these roller coasters broke records for being the longest, fastest and highest when they were first unveiled and they're still delighting and scaring ride-lovers everywhere! Steel Vengeance - intimidating in name alone - broke 10 records when it was opened in 2018.

Lotte World & Everland - Seoul, South Korea

Lotte World is one of the most popular in South Korea, with many major attractions including an indoor and outdoor amusement park, an aquarium, shopping centres, and countless cafes and restaurants. The Lotte World air balloon lets travellers look out over the gorgeous Seokchon Lake for stunning panoramic views of the park itself, and the rest of Seoul! As the world's largest indoor amusement park Lotte World makes for an unmissable experience, regardless of whether it's a visitor's first trip to Seoul or not!

Everland offers both the excitement of its rides - including Korea's first wooden roller coaster, the T Express - and the immersive experience of its five uniquely themed zones. It also boasts Zootopia, home to 2,000 animals which visitors can view as they're driven through the huge 1500km<sup>2</sup> area.

What's new?

Everland also recently opened up a brand new attraction in collaboration with hit Korean-pop label SM Entertainment called Ever SM Town, offering VR and augmented reality experiences featuring the artists and music of popular groups like NCT Dream, Aespa, Red Velvet and Exo.

Disneyland & Universal Resort - Tokyo, Japan

As the first Disney theme park opened outside of the United States, Tokyo's Disneyland and Universal Resort is an unmissable destination! But you don't have to be a Disney aficionado to have an unforgettable experience, as Tokyo Disneyland is based on a hybrid design of Disneyland in California and the world-renowned Magic Kingdom in Florida's park. It has seven themed lands all running the iconic shows and parades that Disney parks are famous for including the 'Tokyo Disneyland Electric Parade Dreamlights' which takes place every evening, all year round. Many of its attractions are also unique to Tokyo which gives them an added appeal!

HOW TO GET THERE:

Disney-goers can travel to JR Maihama station, which is only around 17 minutes from Tokyo station itself and close by to the surrounding stations in Shibuya, Shinagawa and Shinjuku. Due to the fairly recent opening of Japan's international borders, COVID masks are still optional but may be requested during meet-and-greets.

Ghibli Park - Nagakute, Japan

Another unmissable destination is Ghibli Park, around three hours from Tokyo in Nagakute. One of its more recent additions, The Smiler, has more manoeuvres than any other roller coaster in the world with 14 loops. From the glossy and luxurious to the downright awe-inspiring, travellers just can't get enough of seeing their favourite on-screen locations in real life, made all the more appealing by captivating storylines or juicy drama. So with that in mind, we deep-dive into some of the most must-visit 'TV tourism' destinations!

The Last Of Us - Alberta & Calgary, Canada

Based on the award-winning video game series of the same name, The Last Of Us generated worldwide acclaim upon its release, following the journey of its main characters through a post-apocalyptic Northern America and offering powerful themes of love and survival.

Fans of the show will be pleased to know that most of the on-screen destinations were actually filmed in Alberta and Calgary and can be visited! The Last of Us is also Alberta's largest film production in history, and one of the biggest in Canada.

Experience the real-life location of 'Boston's' formidable quarantine zone in the streets of downtown Calgary, or relive Joel and Sarah's heart-shattering attempt to escape 'Austin, Texas' in Fort Macleod's Main Street, less than two hours south of Calgary. Downtown Calgary also played a huge role in the later depictions of 'Kansas City' where main characters Joel and Ellie escaped from zealous revolutionaries. Recognisable sights in Edmonton, Alberta include the Alberta Legislature Building, doubling as the Massachusetts State House in several episodes; as well as the shops, restaurants and historic buildings of downtown 100A, 104 and 108 Streets.

The Alberta town of Canmore was transformed into the on-screen survivor base in 'Jackson, Wyoming'. Canmore is the perfect destination for travellers seeking outdoor adventure, and mountain views. Plus, Canmore Engine Bridge featured on-screen offers amazing views of the Rocky Mountains! The best way to visit these locations is by renting a car, to truly experience the wilderness of Alberta and Calgary's landscapes and cities.

For many, the third episode 'Long Long Time' really made an impact, and Bill and Frank's home can be found in High River, a long-abandoned town in the Beachwood Estates region of Alberta, Canada offering stunning trails and unique camping experiences. Eager travellers will need a car to reach this location, but it makes for an atmospheric - and emotional - experience for fans of the show.

House of the Dragon - Spain and Croatia

With around 9.3 million viewers worldwide the revitalisation of the Game of Thrones universe with House of the Dragon exceeded all expectations, gripping new and dedicated fans alike, and many of its on-screen settings can be found in the must-visit destinations of Spain and Croatia.

Cáceres and Trujillo in Spain are heavily featured in House of the Dragon as the iconic location of 'King's Landing', offering the perfect atmosphere with their historic and mediaeval looks, and making it easier than ever for travellers to transport themselves to another realm!

These locations are also perfect for travellers looking for somewhere off the beaten path, with delicious authentic food, stunning mediaeval castles and quiet atmospheres.

See destinations »»

Visitors can fly into Madrid, then rent a car or get one of the several connecting trains to Cáceres and Trujillo which takes a few hours each way, making it ideal for a relaxing side trip from Madrid.

Croatia's capital Dubrovnik certainly has that fantasy feel to it, with its high stone walls, architecture that harks back to mediaeval periods and narrow, cobbled streets. Not only is this city the stunning location of some of the on-screen shots of 'King's Landing' in both House of the Dragon and its predecessor Game of Thrones, Dubrovnik is also recognized as a UNESCO world heritage site.

▼
For the dedicated fans, we recommend taking the opportunity to retrace the steps of much-loved characters with a private walking tour within the fortress walls of historic Dubrovnik!.

Shadow and Bone - Budapest, Hungary

The stunning destinations of Budapest and Keszthely in Hungary were the principle shooting locations for one of the most popular recent fantasy series on Netflix, Shadow and Bone! We predict that these will be hot destinations for travellers looking for their very own trip to Ravka! Grab tickets to Buda Castle to see recognisable locations from season one, where main character Alina is taken. The Lion's Court and the Hungarian National Gallery will also spark recognition from fans! Visit Budapest's Main Square to walk in the Crows' footsteps and take the chance to soak up this amazing city; or, relive their tense heist efforts by visiting the Budapest Stock Exchange. While visitors are not allowed inside, the exterior of this building is impressive enough to warrant a stop during the Shadow and Bone tour of Budapest.

Festetics Castle in Keszthely was used as the real-life setting for the Little Palace's Second Army, a formidable group of magic-wielding Grisha, and where protagonist Alina is taken in season one. There are direct trains from Budapest to this on-screen location, taking around 3 hours each way, but the views are well worth the day trip! For dedicated fans, a group tour booked in advance is one of the only ways to visit the orphanage where main characters Alina and Mal grew up, set in the real-life Amade-Bajzath-Pappenheim Castle.

Hungary was also home to other fan-favourites such as Moon Knight and The Witcher, making it the perfect destination for fantasy lovers!

The White Lotus - Sicily, Italy

A major breakthrough series at the height of 2021 lockdown and winner of 10 Emmys, The White Lotus is an addictive serial drama where the experiences of luxury travellers are highlighted with a black comedy. Filmed in majority in Sicily, Taormina, Noto, Palermo, Cefalù, visiting on-screen locations seen in The White Lotus offers a perfect chance to experience a textbook showcase of just how stunning southern Italy can be!

Fans of the show can see the infamous 'White Lotus' hotel, which is actually the grand San Domenico Palace, once a 15th century monastery, now a stunning Four Seasons hotel. As Taormina is a couple of hours from Sicily itself by car - or slightly further via bus and train through Catania first - we recommend this as a gorgeous additional destination for fans who want to relive the White Lotus magic in a beach town with roots all the way back to Ancient Greece! Noto offers fans a chance to relive the day trip taken by characters Harper and Daphne, exploring the baroque architecture, limestone piazzas, and stunning atmosphere.

Renting a car is the perfect way to explore the island of Sicily and all its wonders, for incredible day trips and tucked away towns that travellers would miss otherwise.

Bridgerton – Bath and London, UK

Cream tea, anyone? The appeal of the quaint British countryside has been heightened all the more by the hit Netflix series Bridgerton!

Get immersed in the elegance of Bridgerton with a trip to the UNESCO heritage city of Bath. As one of the UK's most-visited cities, Bath draws its fair share of tourists eager to see the Georgian brownstone houses and experience the quaint atmosphere of this historic city. Fans can view Lady Danbury's estate by visiting the Holburne Museum, or see the grandeur of the Featherington's household in the Royal Crescent! For a quintessentially British day trip, enjoy the wonders of the English countryside with a Bath and Stonehenge tour, for the best of the rolling green hillsides and delightful cobbled city streets that the Somerset area has to offer! For travellers looking for the best of both worlds, combine the glitz and glam of a stay in central London with visiting iconic Bridgerton locations in the city! Explore the historical docks of Greenwich and then visit Ranger's house to view the Bridgerton's wisteria-clad family home. Dive headfirst into the real-life decadence of Hampton Court Palace, which serves as Queen Charlotte's St James's Palace in seasons one and two, and then return to the bustling night-life of the UK's best-loved capital city!

What's more, Bath and Stonehenge are accessible via coach, car or train from London, making it easier than ever to get immersed in the Bridgerton world.

Alice in Borderland – Tokyo, Japa

A recent addition to the ever-growing list of times Japan has been on our screens, manga-adaption Alice in Borderland is a dark twisting story of survival in a reality-bending 'game' set in Tokyo that has taken Netflix by storm for two seasons.

Not only is Japan the setting for many fan-favourites from the cult-classic status of Godzilla to more anime than it's possible to list, the National Geographic and Lonely Planet recently named Japan one of the hottest destinations to visit, so there's no better time to dive in!

The Shinagawa business district offers the typical neon-lit experience of a mega-city like Tokyo, with bars open late at night for workers and tourists alike, and amazing food waiting in traditional restaurants. The Shibuya district is a must-visit for fashion and popular culture lovers, as it's heralded as the birthplace of many of Japan's most popular fashion trends! The iconic Shibuya Crossing is also located here, which was a pivotal on-screen location during Alice in Borderland.

While Tokyo has more than enough to entertain travellers for months, let alone days or weeks, Tokyo is also perfectly positioned as a transport hub to many of Japan's other must-visit locations like Osaka, Hiroshima, Kyoto and Mount Fuji! This makes it the ideal place for travellers to make the most of this stunning country.

Rings of Power - Hauraki, Piha and Fiordland National Park- New Zeland

Rings of Power, a prequel series for the renowned and cult-classic Lord of the Rings franchise. With some of the most remote locations in New Zealand used to create an all-encompassing, untouched feel on-screen, it's no wonder that for travellers looking to experience Middle-Earth for themselves this is a venture into the unknown much akin to Bilbo and Frodos' own intrepid journeys in the iconic Lord of the Rings franchise set here way back in the 2000s.

For a true glimpse into the wilderness, travellers can head to Fiordland National Park - the largest national park in New Zealand - or dig their toes into the black sand beaches of Piha for a real Middle-Earth feel.

We simply couldn't speak about New Zealand and Middle-Earth and omit one of the most iconic locations in cinema - The Shire! Matamata, is the idyllic location in the Waikato region that served as the verdant, peaceful backdrop for both Lord of the Rings and The Hobbit films as The Shire - it's so popular that travellers can take a hobbit tour and immerse themselves in the life of a Middle-Earth Shire citizen for the day!

Beer Craft in Canada

Canada is an incredible destination with a rich history, diverse cultures and incredible locations for outdoor activities like skiing. But Canada has also become renowned for its beer, producing some of the best traditionally brewed beers in the world! Did you know that Canada even has a National Beer Day celebrated in October?

We've put together a whistle-stop tour focusing on some of the best sights in the country and ideal chances to discover why Canada is firmly on the map for its breweries.

Vancouver, British Columbia

Heading to Vancouver or Whistler for a ski trip? After a heart-pumping day on the slopes or a hike through the stunning mountains in the province, there's nothing quite like a smooth cold beer to savour the trip. But it can be hard to know which of the 250 breweries in British Columbia alone are the best! Luckily, we've put together a list of a few local favourites to whet your appetite.

Brassneck Brewery is one of the few 'tasting-room-forward' breweries, offering an open space to try some of Canada's best. Strange Fellows Brewing is known for its 'foeder-aged' Belgian brews inspired by superstitions and folklore around the world, and offers visitors the chance to spend a self-branded 'Strange Day' at this unique brewery. Spinnakers Gastro Brewpub in Victoria is also a must-visit as Canada's first modern-era brewpub upon its opening in 1984! Just a quick ferry-ride from Vancouver, Victoria is known as 'Canada's Garden City' and is an ideal getaway destination for a two-day or long-weekend trip if visitors are in Vancouver, with its unique English-village looks and unofficial status as British Columbia's 'pub capital'.

Niagara Falls, Ontario

No trip to Canada is complete without visiting Niagara Falls, as one of the most renowned natural phenomena in the world. But as well as a breath-taking view of nature at its finest, the Niagara Falls districts offer a wide variety of attractions and activities for guests. Think zip lining the falls, discovering the all-new underground power station tour or even getting a birds-eye view and witnessing the falls from above with a helicopter tour!

Not only this, but Niagara Falls also has its own brewery! The Niagara Brewing Co. could probably take the gold in the title for brewery with the most incredible view - situated just 200m from the falls itself. So it's the ideal destination for anyone looking to see what Canada's all about, with stunning scenery, great cuisine and a wide range of activities to industry-leading craft beer.

Toronto, Ontario

Not far from Niagara Falls is Toronto, a perfect destination city with great food, a thriving arts scene and so much more. In fact, Toronto has its very own 'Distillery District' which is a must-visit for some of the trendiest beers Canada has to offer!

Steam Whistle is based in what was once the Canadian Pacific Rail company's locomotive repair facility, offering a truly unique brewery location well-loved for its natural brewing techniques and use of renewable energy. Junction Craft Brewing is a local favourite not only for its high quality brews, but also for donating 5% of all their earnings to local charities. The casual, intimate atmosphere of Black Lab Brewing will feel like a home-from-home for visitors, while Bellwoods is Toronto's iconic modern craft brewery, with award-winning brews well worth a sample. Visitors can even take part in one of their 'Beer Pairing Dinners' or guided tastings!

Montreal, Quebec

Montreal is another of Canada's must-visit cities as the capital of french-speaking Quebec, offering a unique atmosphere. Montreal also houses some of Canada's best breweries with a distinct European flair!

Special mention goes to one of Montreal's original brewpubs, Brasserie Dieu du Ciel, celebrated for its unique recipes and well-loved by locals. Microbrasserie 4 Origines is dedicated as an ode to the uniqueness of Montreal itself, which makes it a must-see for anyone looking to understand the heart of this city, with its delicious beer, great food, friendly atmosphere and gorgeous industrial architecture. And as the very first brewpub in Montreal, Le Cheval Blanc is unmissable, with generations of experience formulating some of the best craft brews in Montreal and a fun 1950's inspired atmosphere.

Given the high demand for travel that we have experienced in 2023 and which is expected to continue into 2024, the best recommendation is to book your trip well in advance, taking advantage of the early buyer deals that many airlines and hotels are offering.

What's new in the travel industry for 2024, any exciting projects, new attractions, new routes?

I have seen how the closure of Russian travel has led to an increased interest in countries such as Iceland and Greenland that were once considered less traditional holiday destinations. This is also due to a greater interest in enjoying nature in its most pristine environment.

Japan is the destination most frequently asked about, with the closure of this location for so many years due to the pandemic and its recent opening, it has become the most popular choice.

What is a unique destination that everyone should know?

Which destination is the best for a multigenerational group trip?

My favorite destination is the Caribbean, with Cancun as the king and followed by Punta Cana and Aruba. The all-inclusive resorts are designed so that every family can enjoy themselves and have a great time, no matter what age they are.

Remote work is a growing trend, what are your tips for those who want to experience a destination while working?

Mexico has many great places for remote work including small cities like Morelia, Queretaro and Guanajuato. If you want to combine remote working with the beach, then Puerto Vallarta has affordable places with good internet service that are well connected, near international airports and that offer good value entertainment options.

What is your favorite travel destination, why, and what is your favorite thing to do/eat/see there?

Spain, I love every corner of this beautiful country. If I had to choose, I would pick San Sebastian and its beautiful La Concha beach. Here you can find a wide variety of delicious pinchos.

What were your favorite vacations? Please tell us about it.

Two months ago, I did the Camino de Santiago with my school friends, with whom I have been friends for almost 40 years. It was the best trip of my life. The scenery and the things you learn along the way can only be understood by living it. I encourage everyone to do it at some point in their lives.

What is unique about your hotel that makes it 'must-visit' for travellers?

The beachfront 432-room Ka'anapali Beach Hotel is set on a three-mile stretch of sandy beach along the western shores of Maui. Recognised as Hawaii's Most Hawaiian Hotel, the hotel offers a variety of cultural activities for the entire family. In 2021, the hotel unveiled a $80 million property renaissance, referred to as "Kealaula," which includes renovations of the Papaku South Wing and Kauhale Southeast Wing. Huihui, the hotel's award-winning beachfront dining experience, takes guests through a culinary exploration of modern Hawaiian cuisine.

Sustainable travel is a deciding factor for today's traveller; what is your company doing to improve sustainability?

Protecting the 'aina (land) is of great importance to Ka'anapali Beach Hotel. Based on some of the key Native Hawaiian cultural values, Ka'anapali Beach Hotel is constantly moving towards environmental sustainability in the hotel industry. Some of our sustainability initiatives include solar panels on main buildings to conserve energy and reduce carbon emissions, discontinued use of Styrofoam containers and plastic straws throughout the property, and selling reef-safe sunscreen which helps to protect our fragile coral reef ecosystems.

Which of the experiences you provide would you say is 'unmissable'?

Once a guest stays at Ka'anapali Beach Hotel, they become a part of our 'ohana (family). This is the inspiration behind our departure lei kukui ceremony. Beginning with a traditional oli (chant), this ceremony explains the significance of the lei kukui that we present to all our cherished guests.

What experiences are best for travellers looking to be as sustainable as possible during their visit?

We encourage guests to give back to our island through various organisations that focus on regenerating Maui's native ecosystems and resources. Some of these organisations are Pu'u Kukui Watershed Preserve, Kipuka Olowalu, and Ka'ehu - Revitalising Ka'ehu Bay Organisation.

When is the best time of year to visit?

Director of Sales & Marketing

What is the top reason you recommend your destination to travellers?

Authenticity. In Kona, visitors can easily find themselves woven into the community since they're not sequestered into a "resort area". Visitors are therefore able to find authentic experiences wherever they go. Go to a local favourite poke shack, grab our famous shaved ice to satisfy your sweet tooth, visit 5th-generation-run Kona Coffee farms or step back into time to eat at Hawaii's oldest restaurant, the James Beard Award-winning Manago Hotel Restaurant (est 1917).

What is unique about your hotel that makes it 'must-visit' for travellers?

The Outrigger Kona's shoreline is one of the few places in the world where you can witness giant manta rays feeding on plankton. While visible from our observation deck, the best experience is from your own private oceanfront guestroom or suite.

More than ever travellers are looking for authentic experiences. How are you supporting or partnering with local communities?

Outrigger Kona partners with local entities in hosting some incredible cultural events and festivals that celebrate hula, vintage aloha shirts, slack key and steel guitar music. Each month we also host "New Moon Talk-Story" events that are complimentary to resort guests and the community.

Which of the experiences you provide would you say is 'unmissable'?

For resort experiences I'd say our cultural tours. These really change the lens through which you see the destination, and especially our location. For island experiences, Hawaii Volcanoes National park is at the top of the list. If you come to Hawaii Island without seeing the world's most active volcano you are definitely missing out!

What is your top recommended experience for travellers seeking an adrenaline rush?

Nighttime snorkelling/diving with giant manta rays is a must! A few companies start this excursion right here at Keauhou Bay pier, within walking distance from the Outrigger Kona. It's a quick 5-minute boat ride and usually lasts about an hour.

BRAM VAN DER HOEK
CEO Sircle Collection

What is the top reason you recommend your destination to travellers?

We are located across eight vibrant European cities with four more new cities announced this year all in the most interesting neighbourhoods. From a charming Max Brown Hotel in a canal house in Amsterdam to our Sir Joan, a private paradise in Ibiza, we have it all.

What is unique about your hotel that makes it 'must-visit' for travellers?

We create one-of-a-kind hotel experiences for our guests. We take local specialties, surprises and secrets and amplify it with our own personal take on modern hospitality. Our hotels are located right in the cultural centres of their cities, just steps away from the best museums, shops and parks.

Sustainable travel is a deciding factor for today's traveller; what is your company doing to improve sustainability?

At Sircle Collection, we work with Green Partner. They've helped our properties become more sustainable, from implementing green technologies, such as energy-saving sensors in guest rooms at Sir Joan to reducing food waste across our Max Brown and Park Central locations. All of our hotels are undergoing a review and some have been EarthCheck recognised, demonstrating our commitment to sustainability and the planet.

More than ever travellers are looking for authentic experiences. How are you supporting or partnering with local communities?

Our hospitality concepts would be nothing without their vibrant surrounding communities and we seek to support them however we can. We work together with local artists, charities such as our Sir Cares program, and foundations to positively contribute to our surrounding environments and neighbourhoods.

What local dish or beverage must visitors try before they leave?

In most of our locations, we work with our sister company, The Entourage Group, to bring our guests delicious cuisine. The Butcher has some of the best burgers in town, Izakaya and Momo have the best fusion food, and in Berlin you can enjoy breakfast 24 hours a day at Benedict.

What are some of the special features of your hotel?

During his presentation of the 'Market to Table' concept, the chef will showcase his culinary expertise in classic Thai delicacies, featuring the catch of the day and the freshest ingredients sourced from the local market early in the morning. Guests will also learn how to cook the traditional Tom Yam Goong under the guidance of the chef.

What are your top tips for travellers to end 2023 and into 2024?

Focus on personalisation of travel in order to make unique trips, while relying on reputable suppliers who can help them at the origin and destination.

What do you think is new for travel in 2024 – such as exciting developments in key destinations, new attractions, new trending routes?

From my position I see an interesting growth in exotic but safe destinations. We are seeing an interest in Costa Rica and Indonesia.

What do you think is the one destination that travellers should know about? Why?

Bali and all the islands that surround it. For a long time, they have been investing in this destination and you can obtain the freedom to travel in natural surroundings but with all kinds of comforts.

What is the best destination for travellers with multiple generations in their group?

For me without a doubt it's North America. Combining Canada with the USA is undoubtedly a trip for the whole family to enjoy, where you can find all kinds of landscapes, cultures, with all the security and comforts.

What is your favourite destination to visit? Why? What are your favourite things to do/see/eat while you're there?

At the end of 2022 and during all of 2023 Morocco became one of my favourite places. My tastes and my love of rally motorcycles makes this country perfect for it, but the food, the people and the culture make me feel special and I love to know more every day.

What was your favourite trip and what made it special for you?

I have two. For me New York is full of attractions no matter where you go. It was amazing to see an NBA game and it snowed when I went to Central Park. The other place is Morocco. This is the best place in the world to navigate with my motorcycle, through the dunes and the immense deserts.

Do you have any secret food locations you recommend to travellers?

In Seville I have my hideaway, but I keep it to myself! But, without a doubt, one of the best restaurants in the world, and one that's listed as one of the best 10 in Europe, is in Jaen, Spain. The Bagá Restaurant is the smallest Michelin restaurant in Europe and has a cuisine that will drive you crazy.

When is the best time of year to visit the place/country you live in, and why? Tell us an interesting/unique secret about where you live/your favourite destination that you don't usually see in travel brochures!

As you know I am from Jaen in Spain, which is a place that few people know as a tourist destination. But Jaen has great attractions to discover including lots of castles and you will remember our cuisine once you've tried it. Its people are great, and we have cities such as Úbeda and Baeza that are World Heritage Sites. Add to this Cazorla, which is an hour from city of Jaén and home to adventure activities. We are also an hour and a half from the Sierra Nevada. Jaén is a large province with more than 140 villages and each one has its own local festival, many of which would be of interest to tourists.

UNDERRATED PLACES TO VISIT IN 2024

With more travellers than ever looking to head off the beaten path and discover some hidden gems, we've put together a few of the best alternative destinations for unforgettable trips to Europe, the Middle East and Africa!

Looking for Balkan bliss? Head to Albania!

Best time of year to visit: March-May for weather, fewer tourists, and cheaper prices.

Why visit? Beautiful beaches without the crowds! Albania is also the perfect choice for budget-conscious travellers.

Great for: travellers on a budget, backpackers, beach-goers.

From cosy coves to crystal clear waters, Albania has some of the best beaches in the Balkans and in Europe! Sarandë is a stone's throw from Corfu by ferry and as the main city is a great choice for tourists. Travellers can sample the country's fantastically fresh seafood and wine or head up to the ruins of Lekursi Castle for a panoramic vista.

For a luxury feel on a backpacker's budget head to Dhermi, a small village north of Sarandë in Himarë, for a beautiful stay at very affordable prices. Meet the incredibly friendly locals and wander to Gjipe Beach, possibly the most beautiful beach in Albania (don't tell!)

Top tips:

- Renting a car is the best way to uncover Albania's hidden beaches and make light work of the mountains for panoramic views of those heavenly coastlines.
- Expect to pay a small charge for chairs, sunbeds, and snacks since many of these beaches are privately owned.
- For stunning shorelines head to Ksamil, a 15-minute drive from Sarandë.

Middle Eastern paradise?

Oman is the place to be

Best time of year to visit: October to April, but if you prefer cooler temperatures, travel in September to March (although prices may be higher).

Why visit? Oman is one of the Middle East's best kept secrets, which means more quiet spots to enjoy its stunning weather and award-winning culture. Importantly, Oman is a very safe country, making it the perfect choice for all!

Great for: backpackers, adventure travellers.

Visitors won't find skyscrapers in Oman but there are plenty of dreamy natural swimming pools, rolling deserts and much more to enjoy! The capital city Muscat is perfect to experience a quieter slice of life with charming livestock markets and artisan shops, far from the glitz and glam of Dubai - but travellers are guaranteed to have an authentic, memorable experience.

Adventurers should head to Wadi Shab for a morning walk before cooling off in the turquoise waters of the emerald gorge! Sleep under the stars on the rolling dunes of the Wahiba Sands desert, and snorkel with turtles and sharks on the Daymaniyat Islands, just a short drive and boat ride from Muscat. If travelling in September, head to Ras Al Jinz Beach to watch sea turtles lay their eggs.

Top tips:

- Public transport in Oman is limited, so renting a 4x4 to see the sights will save on taxi fares!
- Friday is the Islamic holy day meaning businesses and banks may not be open.
- Talk to a local tour operator for guidance; there are no tourist information offices in Oman and reliable information can be difficult to find.

For stargazing and safaris, head to Namibia!

Best time of year to visit: June-September for the best chance at spotting wildlife.

Why visit? Namibia is an accessible alternative to more over-crowded areas of South Africa!

Great for: backpackers, adventure travellers, luxury travellers interested in conservation.

With 300 days of sunshine per year plus deserts, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, and a coastal stretch, there's something for everyone in Namibia. The often-overlooked capital Windhoek offers everything from iconic architecture to locally brewed beer - well worth a visit!

For an unforgettable safari, travellers should rent a car and explore Etosha National Park, one of the most beautiful and accessible parks in Africa; or take to the with a hot air balloon, flight, skydiving or even paragliding to see the picture-perfect Sossusvlei Dunes. But Damaraland ticks all the boxes when it comes to Africa at its untouched and often overlooked best, and it's perfect for travellers seeking pockets of unspoiled landscapes complete with lava-topped mountains, petrified trees and iconic wildlife!

Top tips:

- Most visits to Namibia are trouble-free but travellers should exercise caution, particularly in Windhoek and Swakopmund. Use hotel safes to store valuables and book taxis through your accommodation or tour operators.
- Rent a car for a self-drive safari. Book online with a reputable rental company to avoid card cloning or fraud.
- Be friendly to others and be sure to greet the person and ask after their health before asking for anything!

Ask an Expert

What destination are you most excited about, and why?

Namibia! We have created some beautiful itineraries for clients in Namibia this year. The standard of the lodges and the safari experience is really second to none. It is not always first on people's minds when they think of taking a safari, but we always make sure to suggest it and when they see the images, they are sold!

What are your top tips for travellers to end 2023 and into 2024?

It might sound a bit cliché, but plan, plan, plan! Holidays are so precious; we always remember that our clients have waited all year for their holidays, they have been saving hard and the experience starts from the moment they start researching the trip. By planning well in advance, we can ensure that we get everything right for them. Another tip is to always use a Travel Agent. This is paramount to ensure full financial security, expert advice and complete peace of mind. We also offer 24/7 emergency numbers to all our clients, so they know they have someone at the end of the phone night and day if anything goes wrong.

What is your favourite destination to visit?

This is more "destinations" plural! I have really fallen in love with River Cruising over the last couple of years. I was lucky to travel on board a couple of excellent cruise lines and sailing up and down The Rhine and Danube. It is a wonderful experience. You can visit so many small cities and towns, you dock right in the heart of the destination, and you can either join an excursion or just head off on your own so easily. Unlike Ocean Cruising, it is a lot more intimate and overall feels so much more relaxed. The standard of River Cruise lines available now are excellent, and the value for the service, food and overall standard on board is second to none.

What do you always pack in your suitcase (passport not included!)?

My runners (trainers)! I love to go for a run when I am abroad, it is the best way to experience a new destination. I love nothing more than that first morning on a trip when I am up and out before breakfast exploring the destination. The only problem is I always end up stopping so many times to take photos, I am not sure how much exercise I actually get done!

THE MOST INSTAGRAMMABLE LOCATIONS IN EMEA

While many people are seeking phone-free experiences to escape from the pressures of social media, a vast number of travellers want to explore exciting destinations and be seen doing so - especially on Instagram. From eye-catching stories to scroll-stopping feed posts that make followers gasp with envy, here are some destinations that will make any traveller dream about catching a flight and becoming their very own influencer!

Sustainable Türkiye

Known for its bright culture, warm temperatures and stunning landscapes, Türkiye is as popular as ever! However, to minimise the damage on local communities and the environment of the highly concentrated tourism it has seen in recent years - 42 million tourists in 2019 alone! - Türkiye has worked with the Global Sustainable Tourism Council (GSTC) to create a sustainable travel program!

Türkiye is the first country in the world to sign an agreement to develop a national program for sustainable and green tourism, and we think this speaks volumes about not only the importance of conscious travel as a whole, but highlights Türkiye as a leader in the new era of green travel.

So, what are some of the recommended ways to see Türkiye sustainably?

Visit Türkiye's 'Slow Cities'

Of the 287 'Slow Cities' around the world 21 can be found in Türkiye! There are 72 criteria for a place to qualify as one of the country's 'Slow Cities' including eliminating noise pollution, reducing fast-moving traffic, supporting local agriculture and increasing the number of green spaces.

Gökçeada is the world's first slow island! Connected to the province of Çanakkale and the biggest island of Türkiye, Gökçeada offers a calm, slow way of life where organic agriculture reigns including beekeeping, olive and wine growing! Travellers should climb to the top of Uğurlu Village to see the sunset, enjoy the old town villages of Kaleköy, Zeytinli, Tepeköy, Bademli or visit Salt Lake for natural skin-healing thanks to its sulphur-rich mud. Plus, much of Gökçeada's gastronomy is a result of organic farming, making it a great location for travellers keen to support the local economy and eat well!

Foça, in the Esmirna province, is a great destination for beach-lovers with several Blue Flag beaches, a certification given to beaches, marinas and sustainable boating tourism operators to indicate their high environmental standards. Travellers can enjoy boating excursions to the stunning Mersinaki bays and low-impact water activities like swimming, sailing and canoeing!

Spend Locally To Minimise Tourism Leakage

One of the best ways to travel sustainably is to support local restaurants, artisans, and producers no matter the destination!

Antalya is one of our favourite coastal cities for sustainable trips as it offers crystal-clear waters for low-impact activities and local fisher people to support, ancient ruins, and fantastic local businesses within the city. Avoid spending money at all-inclusive resorts and instead dine in independently owned restaurants and spend in local shops! As one of the places where sea turtles lay eggs during May to September, conscious travellers should ask tour operators their company policies on conservation to minimise disruption during the summer and hatching seasons and choose beach clean ups to support the local sea turtle populations!

See Sustainability In Action In Istanbul

As well as being home to Türkiye's first independent and fully carbon-neutral hotel, founded in 2017 and which recently opened its fifth hotel in Türkiye's busy capital, Istanbul is a stunning choice for conscious travellers. Walking tours are a brilliant way to minimise carbon footprints and still see the city's beautiful sights such as the iconic Grand Bazaar, the Blue Mosque, the Hagia Sophia and Topkapi Palace! Choosing tours which are guided by local experts or locally owned tour operators also ensures that travellers are keeping valuable money within the community. Plus, wandering the Grand Bazaar offers the perfect opportunity to support local vendors and sample Türkiye's delicious cuisine. Support local and organic agriculture at the outdoor markets of The Ekolojik Halk Pazarı in Sisli and City Farm in the İstinye Park shopping centre, and navigate the city using its accessible public transport including regular buses, metro system, ferries and trams!

Choose Sustainable Activities To Minimise Carbon Footprints

Türkiye has around 30 hiking routes and 86 road and mountain biking routes! The most notable however runs for 500 km along the gorgeous coast of the Izmir Peninsula, offering stunning scenery for slow travellers. Eğirdir is also a great slow city destination, offering easy access to eco-friendly activities like lake watersports and trekking in the nearby Kovada Lake National Park and Gelincik Mountain Natural Park.

Train travel is also a great way of travelling between Türkiye's vibrant cities, towns and more remote regions while working to minimise carbon footprints - plus, it's a great way to see some amazing natural vistas! The Eastern Express from Ankara to Kars is arguably the most scenic, perfect at all times of the year thanks to Türkiye's dramatic landscapes. The Lake Van Express is a popular alternative, heading from Ankara through Kayseri, Sivas, Malatya, Elazığ to Tatvan, but is better in May or June to experience the beautiful green landscapes along the journey.

What is your top recommended experience for travellers seeking an adrenaline rush?

For the adrenaline junkie you will find a lot of opportunities to explore in Norway. Everything from rafting to mountain biking, via ferrata, summer skiing, Rib safaris, diving, and windsurfing. There's a lot of options if you'd like to push your limits or just experience something new.

When is the best time of year to visit?

Norway is beautiful all year round and because of the temperatures in the waters of the Gulf stream, Norway has a much warmer and milder climate than other parts of the world at the same latitude. It really depends on what you'd like to see or experience. There is something for everyone in all seasons.

What local dish or beverage must visitors try before they leave?

Norway's national dish is Mutton and Cabbage called "Fårikål" in Norwegian. If you travel to Norway in the fall, this is a must try dish. And we always recommend trying the brown cheese "Brunost" when you visit, this cheese is great alone, but even better when placed in a Norwegian waffle.

What do you think is the most 'Instagrammable' location?

For me, that must be Tromsø and the northern lights. This is a "must have" experience.

Which of the experiences you provide would you say is 'unmissable'?

Out of our newest hotels, I can really recommend Thon Hotel Snø. They open June 19th and offer ski-in ski-out directly from the hotel, and an all-season arena for snow adventures. Or book yourself in to one of Thon Hotel Ålesund's suites and use the fishing rod to fish from the balcony.

YOUR NEXT NORWEGIAN ADVENTURE

With great customer service, excellent breakfast and enhanced facilities, Thon Hotels sets the stage for your next Norwegian adventure!

With more than 80 hotels across Norway you can be sure that you will find one that suits your travel plans. Our hotels are designed with energized colors that spread joy, and our hotel rooms are equipped with comfortable beds that leave you well-rested.

It's the little details that create great experiences. The fresh fruit and freshly squeezed orange juice. The homemade bread and the omelet made just the way you want it. Our lavish breakfast buffets are an important and major focus area for Thon Hotels.

Book a stay and add colour to your day!

VILA GALÉ HOTELS

MANUELA RIBEIRO
Sales & Revenue Director

What is the top reason you recommend your destination to travellers?

Portugal is a top destination offering beaches, countryside, mountains, and exciting cities. Vila Gale Hotels cover all these destinations.

What is unique about your hotel that makes it 'must-visit' for travellers?

Vila Gale offers hotels in top locations of Portugal (north/south and east/west). Comfort, gastronomy, facilities and a passion for the hospitality industry make our hotels a perfect choice.

Sustainable travel is a deciding factor for today's traveller; what is your company doing to improve sustainability?

In addition to measures already implemented such as water/electricity saving and the reduction of plastic usage, we are always looking for measures to reduce our ecological footprint. Our Quality department monitors wastage, staff training programs and certifications.

What would you suggest doing to people traveling with multiple familial generations in their group (with your company or while staying at your hotel/s)?

There are programs for all tastes and ages, some by Vila Gale and by hand-picked partners. For example, in the Algarve, mum can come for spa treatment, dad to play golf and children to join our kids' club activities or, if a little bit older, to join a fun group tours such as boat trips, water sports, horseriding, jeep safari and more.

When is the best time of year to visit?

All depends on motivation and area chosen to explore. Summer for the sun and fun in hotels on the coastline. Bask in the sun at our pool areas or adventure to sea. Winter/shoulder seasons: cities for culture and resorts for relaxation.

All year round is a good time to stay at a Vila Galé hotel or try various in the same stay.

What do you think is the most 'Instagrammable' location?

"Douro Vineyards has a spot that is breathtaking, on the slopes of Douro in between amazing rivers
Vila Galé Ericeira, just over the beach, is set against the backdrop of the Atlantic and a "Titanic" picture."

Wellness Tourism in Asia

Holistic wellness experiences such as cryotherapy (low-temperature therapy), shinrin-yoku (forest bathing), sensory meditations, emotional cleansing and many others have become increasingly popular recently and will continue to do so in 2024 and beyond!

Asia has a rich and varied history of holistic wellness, traditional medicines and spiritual practices, and from yoga and traditional Chinese medicine to Ayurveda and Reiki, the influence of Western understanding of these practices is undeniable. This makes Asia one of the best regions in the world for wellness experiences; so let's explore a few of the best places for mind, body and soul!

Tai Chi in China

While there are many different modern techniques to improve wellness, sometimes going back to tradition provides the most benefits! 'Harmony' is of utmost importance within China's traditional practices, and none quite like Taoism and Tai Chi. So, what better place to be immersed in traditional wellness than at the birthplace of Tai Chi at Wudang Mountain in the Hubei Province, which has Taoist connections back to the East Han Dynasty? Tai Chi is a vehicle of Taoist philosophy, with a deep focus on harmony and balance of the mind and body. Practising Tai Chi reduces stress and anxiety, promotes flexibility and strength, and in-depth research shows it can even help to mediate some chronic issues like hypertension and diabetes.

Of the 53 ancient buildings in the Wudang mountains, The Purple Cloud Temple, Golden Hall, Yuzhen Palace and Nayan Temple are some of the most awe-inspiring - then, discover the benefits of Tai Chi with a class led by experts! A minimum of 2 full days to explore Wudang Mountain itself, combined with a trip to discover the city of Xian is a great way to get to the heart of this profound location.

Shinrin-yoku in Japan

Japan has a deep connection with Zen Buddhism, and a widespread philosophy of wellness that embraces transience and imperfection known as 'wabi sabi'. Mindfulness is woven into everyday life here in a way that is unlike many other cultures, making it a perfect wellness destination!

The concept of shinrin-yoku (forest bathing) was originated in Japan and involves forest immersion and meditation! Time in nature has been proven to reduce stress, anxiety and depression, improve the immune system and lower blood pressure, and forest bathing has become a key part of preventative healthcare in Japan as a result.

Shinrin-yoku offers an accessible route into other Japanese practices such as Zen meditation, because in the forest this meditative state is easier to achieve; this makes it an ideal experience for anyone! Japan also has many dedicated forest bathing centres, where organised, guided tours can be made bespoke to travellers' needs.

For travellers looking to forest bathe alone, Japan's many national parks are ideal! Try the Japan Alps, accessible from Tokyo, the sacred forests of the Yoshino-Kumano National Park, just south of Osaka, for a more spiritual pilgrimage or Yakushima National Park to walk through giant trees thousands of years old.

Thai fire massage in Thailand

Bangkok has many world-class wellness resorts perfect for longer retreats or relaxing individual sessions, such as rooftop yoga to a traditional Thai massage! Thai massage in particular is highly beneficial as it combines acupuncture, yoga postures, as well as firm pressure from the masseuse's hands, elbows and even feet, making for a unique way to soothe those aches and pains.

But for an authentic experience we recommend a traditional and sacred Thai fire massage known as yam khang in northern Thailand! This practice is thousands of years old and only performed by highly trained practitioners in small villages in northern Thailand, specifically in Baan Rai Kong Khing - though a few can be found in Chiang Mai. Fire massages use a blend of traditional herbs, aromatherapy, heat and pressure along Sen pathways to release tension and bad energy, and while not so different to Thai herbal compress ball massage (also highly recommended) the fire massage uses heat from live flames, carefully applied by a skilled masseuse!

OTHER WELLNESS TECHNIQUES TO DISCOVER IN ASIA:

- Why not try a hypnosis session to treat pain, change your perceptions and improve internal awareness in one of Hong Kong's many urban wellness centres? Other treatments include everything from 3D facial and body composition assessments to singing bowl therapy, astrology sessions and nutritional guidance!
- The inspiring Yangshuo County or Yunnan and Guangdong provinces in China are also perfect places to discover QiRong, a traditional mindful breathing technique perfect for reducing stress!
- 'Chicken coop wellness!' - In Trat on the east coast, Thailand's unique 'spa sum gai' (chicken coop spa) offers the chance to soak up therapeutic herbs in a personal sauna made from adapted bamboo cages!

MULTI-GENERATIONAL AUSTRALIA

At its heart, multi-generational travel consists of three or more generations travelling together, and has become more popular as families look to spend more time together since the pandemic. We've put together some ideas for a few great destinations in Australia perfectly suited for families looking to create unique memories together!

A Trip To The Mountains

The Blue Mountains National Park offers a great chance to get in touch with Australia's wild side, while being located a perfect distance from the must-visit city of Sydney!

One of the best and most family-friendly ways to explore jaw-dropping sights of the Blue Mountains is with Scenic World in Katoomba, choosing either the Scenic Skyway across the Jamison Valley in glass-floored cable cars down to the valley floor; the Scenic Railway, which is the steepest incline in the world; or the equally stunning Scenic Cableway for more views across Jamison Valley including the iconic Three Sisters peaks at Echo Point!

Katoomba makes a great base for those so inclined to rest and relax while others explore the family-friendly Katoomba Falls or Lady Darley walks.

The nearby city of Leura has earned the title 'The Jewel in the Mountains Crown' thanks to its unique charm! Offering a perfect place for more elderly or younger travellers to enjoy, Leura's Everglades Gardens have cool climate trees, sandstone terraces and views of Jamison Valley as well as picnic areas; from here the more adventurous in the group can explore Gordon Falls Reserve to better see Jamison Valley from Gordon Falls Lookout! Another great spot for all ages is the Leura Cascades, just a short drive along Cliff Drive, with picture-perfect areas for picnics and barbecues for travellers to enjoy while keen hikers can walk to several waterfalls from here, including Leura, Linda, Lila and the popular Bridal Veil Falls.

What's more, as well as being easily accessible in just a few hours via car or public transport from Sydney, The Blue Mountains area offers a great deal of options for travellers, such as boutique hotels, eco lodges and 'glamping' cabins to stay in!

A Trip To The Rainforest

Another unmissable destination, Cairns is perfectly suited to the more adventurous group, with unbeatable opportunities to explore the Australian wilderness with the family. The Kuranda Rainforest is perfect for an explorative hike, but running across the Great Dividing Range to Kuranda is the Kuranda Scenic Railway, a great option for those who want to see the sights in comfort! The Atherton Tablelands are also only around an hour from Cairns, which is one of Australia's most underrated travel destinations for lovers of adventure with unmissable hikes, national parks and activities.

Intrepid groups can visit the Crystal Caves, or take the 1-1.5 hour hike from Malanda to Windin Falls waterfalls, one of the most scenic waterfalls near Cairns with a sunrise lookout and infinity pool! Other activities include white-water rafting on Barron River, or heading out to Mossman Gorge and Daintree Rainforest for a few days and having a locally guided tour by the custodians of the oldest rainforest in the world!

A Trip To The South Coast

Though the 1,200km of stunning coastline between Perth and Esperance lends itself perfectly to a several week road trip, there are some key locations along this route that travellers could work their sight-seeing trip around no matter their length of stay!

From Perth, a short ferry ride will take travellers to the picturesque Rottne Island! See the white sand beaches of one of the 63 on Rottne Island alone, or grab a bike and explore this car-free island. Once back on the mainland, Fremantle makes a great place to stay and enjoy its great food scene before heading out again. Around 160km south is Bunbury, where wild bottlenose dolphins come to the shorelines every morning from September to April, offering a stunning chance to swim with dolphins if travellers are wading out into the water before 9am! A little further south, Yallingup is a prime surfing destination with stunning coastal spots and the Injidup Natural Spa for a well-deserved break! Just a little further south is Margaret River, offering incredible vineyards and wineries (for the adults) as well as the Ngilgi Caves to see illuminated stalagmites and stalactites.

Closer to Esperance is Bremer Bay, one of three locations in Australia where southern right whales come right up to the shore to calve, which makes it a must visit between June and October. Another special mention goes to Elephant Rocks and Greens Pool along the south west coastline near William Bay National Park, Denmark, to witness the marvel of a 'herd' of elephant-esque boulders making their way into a turquoise sea; it's a standout location to make unique memories for all. Esperance itself is a stunning location, equally worthy as the starting point for this road trip if travellers can only pick a few key spots to visit, with white sand shores of Esperance Bay, surrounded by more than 100 isles making up the Recherche Archipelago - where whales, seals and dolphins can be seen in the clear waters!

Ask an Expert

What are your top tips for travellers to end 2023 and into 2024?

Without doubt Covid has taught us one thing: all travellers should book as early as possible. In past years, availability has not been a major issue but for 2023 and looking forward to 2024, and with the limited number of flight services – especially, for example, Adelaide – the earlier to book the better chance of availability and a lower RBD, hence cheaper costs.

What do you think is new for travel in 2024 – such as exciting developments in key destinations, new attractions, new trending routes?

Europe is still the No. 1 destination. However, we have found bookings to more offbeat locations – not just the traditional London, Rome, Paris, etc – that Spain, Portugal and Eastern Europe have become extremely popular generally as they are cheaper than elsewhere in Europe. We have also seen an increase in rail and car hire as a number of clients are venturing to niche locations, “off the beaten track”. With shorter stays, clients are trying to focus more on regions and experiences. The old maxim that “more is better” is not always the case.

What is your favourite destination to visit? Why? What are your favourite things to do/see/eat while you're there?

I have a handful of favourite locations they are all great and all very different. When asked, I answer a question with a question: “what do they want from a holiday?”.

What was your favourite trip and what made it special for you?

One of my most favourite and memorable trips would have to be my first trip to Canada. I think because I was in my early 20s it wasn't on my bucket list (I actually won the trip at a travel function) and so didn't have excessively high expectations and went with no preconceived ideas. But, from the moment that I arrived everything, from the amazing breath-taking scenery, the lakes, the mountains, to the quaint towns was incredible. Now, at the age of almost 60, it has left an impression that I have never forgotten.

Do you have any secret food locations you recommend to travellers?

We have definitely seen an increase in the request for food tours and clients wanting more from their holidays than just sightseeing. It seems that every location now focuses on its cuisine, and we know that everyone must eat, so why not experiment with great dishes while you're abroad? From hidden street vendors in bustling Asian cities to underground supper clubs in Europe and North America, these hidden gems provide foodies with a chance to explore exotic flavours and ingredients that are rarely found in mainstream restaurants.

Visiting on-screen locations is more popular than ever. What's a TV/film location you'd like to visit?

Being a movie buff, I certainly think that USA offers great locations for both TV and film from West to East coast and everything in between. A favourite location of mine is NYC with its abundance of locations from Central Park, Broadway, Little Italy, and Greenwich Village. And of course, the West Coast which has everything from LA, Hollywood, Route 101, Santa Barbara and San Diego to San Francisco, Fisherman's Wharf, Monterey, and Carmel. The list is endless.
